The Song of the Cradle.

Bye, bye! Hope rises high.
There's a sweet little cradle hung up in the sky;
A dear little life that is coming to bloom.
Two soft chubby hands
that will pat and caress;
A pure little soul
waving down from above;
A darling to care for,
a baby to love.

In the days when Eve sinned it was written that motherhood should hereafter be accompanied with pain and sorrow; but this curse upon our forefathers has been lightened more and more, as mankind has learned to rise superior to many of their sins and mistakes.

One of the grandest agencies which enlightened Science has discovered to relieve motherhood from excessive suffering is the "Favorite Prescription" devised by Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. This wonderful "Prescription" imbues the entire nervous system with natural, healthy vitality, gives elastic vigor to the delicate organism specially concerned in motherhood; renders the prospective mother strong and cheerful and makes the coming of baby entirely free from danger and almost free from pain.

The delighted gratitude of Mrs. Pearl Walton, of Alvo, Cass Co., Neb., will find an echo in the heart of every expectant mother.

"Previous to the birth of my child," writes Mrs. Walton, "I had no appetite, was sick at my stomach, had headache, could not rest at night, was completely worn out in every way. I commenced to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and began to improve night after night. Two bottles of this great medicine and felt like a new person. At the time of confinement I was in labor but a little while and I owe it all to that great remedy—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure constipation.

One of Nature's Puzzles That is Located in Texas.

About three miles west of Cedar Bayou, Harris county, Tex., is a remarkable well. When it was dug, no one can tell, but it has been in existence for more than 60 years. The well is known as the "singing well."

In calm, fine weather a sound like that of an Aeolian harp comes upward between the tangles of vines below. At times the sound seems nearer and clearer. Then again it recedes, as if far away, and reaches the ear very faintly. These changes take place every few minutes, and with great regularity.

With an east wind blowing the water in the well gets very low and the mysterious musical sound very faint. A strong west wind causes the water to rise and the sound to increase in volume and clearness.

But it is just before a great norther that the old well plays its wildest pranks. Then for several hours the water rises to within a few feet of the top of the well and emits the weirdest, wildest noises that ever reached human ears. At such times even the water drawn out with buckets moans and wails as it is anguish.

The well is about 60 feet deep. A few years ago the land on which it is located was bought by a Mr. Watkins, who, not liking the sounds that came from the well, employed two men to fill it up. They shoveled dirt into the well two weeks, but it did not affect the depth of water perceptibly, and they threw up the contract. From the measurements of the excavations they had made it has been calculated that the well should have been filled up a little more than twice.

The water is very clear, with a bluish tint, and is fairly palatable. No other wells in the neighborhood show such pranks as are played by the "singing well."—Fort Worth (Tex.) Cor. Chicago Inter Ocean.

AMERICAN HUMOR.

An English Comedian Compares It With the British Article.

George Grossmith, comparing American humor with English, says: "A New York gentleman was once chaffing me about my pronunciation of certain words, and I was very much amused at it. So I said to him: 'It's our language, you know. We invented it before you were discovered.' He was a bit abashed at first. Then he said: 'That's so. Well, I think it's about time you learned to speak it.'"

"It is very difficult to score off an American, and you can't play a practical joke on one at all. I've often gone, when I've had a friend with me, into some old city bank, like the Bank of England, for example—staid old place, you know. We've marched up to the counter, and I've said quite calmly to the old gentleman behind it, 'Can't I have a brandy and soda and some sandwiches?' They've always been most polite and taken it seriously, saying, 'We don't keep brandy and soda and sandwiches here.' 'But you have them ordered in from outside.' 'Yes, but that of course is for ourselves,' and so on, all quite gravely and without the suspicion of a smile or the slightest quiver of the muscles of the countenance to indicate a sense that a practical joke was fooling around."

"And in America you would have fared differently?"

"Rather. I went once to the state-house in Hartford. There was a man standing at the entrance, an official with a band around his hat, so I stepped up to him and said, 'Can you tell me if this hotel is conducted on the European plan?' He simply looked at me, and calmly said, 'Any more?' Then there was a moment's awkward pause, and I had to walk out."

A Sure Cure.

"I've cured my husband's insomnia." "How did you do it?" "Pretended I was ill, and the doctor left medicine which Henry was to give me every half hour all night long."—Virginia Falls.

THE DIFFERENCE.

Is anyone in Nevada credulous enough to believe that Senator Stewart, if defeated, will ever spend another day within the boundaries of the State, except perhaps while passing through from San Francisco on a palace car? Even the latter is hardly probable, for he would doubtless prefer the Southern route. Everybody knows this, and even his supporters do not pretend to deny it, while they claim that as between Stewart and Newlands the "Home Rule" doctrine applies equally to one as to the other. Stewart, if defeated, will lose all the interest he has or ever had in the State, namely to use it for political purposes, which will pass away with his failure to be returned to the United States Senate. The Southern Pacific company will never invest another nickel upon him for Nevada purposes, although his knowledge of the many political secrets of that corporation will make him too dangerous a man to be entirely ignored, and some sincere position will be given him, probably that of lobbyist for the company in California or Washington. Even in the event of his election, his Nevada interest will pass away, for his certificate of election for six years would terminate his use for the people of this commonwealth, as at his age he cannot expect to renew his candidacy in 1904—and he will be under no necessity of even making a pretense of representing any interest other than that of the corporation which purchased his seat, and to whom he would quite properly consider it rightfully belonged. So whether elected or defeated, Senator Stewart's only interest in the State will end at the moment a majority vote is cast in the joint convention.

On the other hand, Mr. Newlands has been an actual and not constructive resident of Nevada for nearly a decade of years. He represented them, as he now does, property interests to an amount probably larger than any estate or individual within our borders. Since locating here he has invested largely in property both for the Sharon estate and personally in his own name, and the holdings are of such a character that their value are dependent upon the prosperity of the State, and indeed they are such as to insure to the development of our agricultural resources being largely in lands and water rights which will result in fertile fields and comfortable farm houses where now the jack rabbit is the only inhabitant, and sage brush and grease wood the only vegetable products. He has manifested his confidence in the future of the commonwealth by investment of money, the return of which is dependent solely upon the correctness of his estimate of the resources of the State and the enterprise of his people. Whether defeated or elected, Mr. Newlands will continue his residence in Nevada, where the interests he represents will require his personal attention, regardless of any political aspirations he may have, or his ability may justly entitle him to hold.

We cannot imagine how any advocate of home rule, as the JOURNAL assuredly is, can hesitate for a moment in making a choice between Newlands and Stewart upon that one principle alone, and regardless of the respective merits of the two men.

SENATOR WILLIAM M. STEWART of Nevada, arrived in this city Tuesday and took apartments at the Palace. He doubtless came here to invoke the aid of certain influences centered in this city in behalf of his campaign for reelection to the Senate. Some weeks ago Senator Stewart controlled the Senatorial situation of his State, but now Frank Newlands, Congressman, has come forward as his opponent. The latter has a large following, and for the first time in years Stewart's right to represent Nevada in the Senate is seriously contested.—San Francisco Report.

YET with all those good men to choose from the JOURNAL supports Francis G. Newlands, who is neither Democrat, Republican nor Silver man. Does the JOURNAL mean to pretend for an instant that if any of those parties held a convention to-morrow that they would not pledge their candidates to vote against Newlands?—Report.

No, decidedly no. If conventions of the parties named were to be held to-morrow, the delegates representing the rank and file of their respective organizations, as a choice between Francis G. Newlands and Wm. M. Stewart, a unanimous vote would be cast in each in favor of the former. Give us a harder one.

ARTHUR SEWELL, late candidate for vice-president, was asked recently if, in his opinion, free silver had received its death blow in the recent elections. "I don't think free silver suffered in the least," he said. "It was not an issue. I believe it is as popular to day as it was two years ago. It will be the supreme issue in 1900, and if unsuccessful then be upheld until it wins."

HURRAH for Commissary-General Egan, who says that the cooking in the army, presumably the volunteer army was uniformly bad, and he thinks good cooks should be employed if they cost $100 a month. A good cook is worth quite as much as a poor colonel, who gets a lot more than $100.

The Wadsworth Dispatch says that three out of four citizens of Ormsby county desire the return of Wm. M. Stewart. The do want him returned.—Chico News.

Charlie's Authority.
"I've called you three times, Charlie," said a mother to her little son, "and I'm very much annoyed because of your failure to answer me."
"Well, mamma," replied Charlie, who was very fond of reading Bible stories, "you ain't any better than the Lord, are you?"
"No, of course not," answered the mother in surprise. "Why did you ask that?"
"Because," replied the little fellow, "the Lord called Samuel three times, and he didn't get mad about it."—Chicago News.

Misses Ellen and Lillian Virgin were passengers on the V. & T. last night. The latter is on her way to Golconda, where she has been elected as teacher. Miss Ellen will remain in Reno as the guest of Mrs. Kate Sunderland.

There appears to be a question of veracity between Hon. Wm. McMillan and Hon. Thomas Wren. One says he didn't, and the other says he did; and so the matter stands. The JOURNAL would suggest that the gentlemen shake dice to decide which is right.

IN HYMEN'S BONDAGE.

Miss Bessie Dorland and Thomas Brown Married Last Night.

Two more of our young people have joined hands and embarked on the matrimonial sea. This time the groom is Mr. Thomas Brown, Principal of the Verdi public school, the bride Miss Bessie Dorland, a student at the Nevada State University. The wedding took place yesterday. Rev. Haddison of the Baptist church officiating. In accordance with the bride's wishes the wedding was a quiet one, only a few chosen friends being present.

Thomas Brown is the son of Prof. Le Roy D. Brown, who is remembered throughout Nevada as an able educator and, at one time, President of the Nevada State University. On his retirement from that place he accepted a position in the San Jose Normal School, which he held until the time of his death. The son bids fair to rival his father's record as an exponent of learning. In connection with his duties as Principal of the Verdi school, he is completing work which will enable him to take an academic degree at the State University at the close of the coming summer.

Miss Dorland was born in Ohio, and is a niece of Dr. J. E. Stubbs, President of the State University. She came to Nevada from her Ohio home last year and entered the University. Since her arrival she has been recognized as one of the leading belles of Reno.

It was at the University the young people first met and formed an acquaintance that soon ripened into love, and in the course of time their engagement was made public.

As Mr. Brown's school opens on Monday, the bride and groom left on the west bound train for Verdi last night, where they will reside for the present.

A PLUTHIC TREASURY.

Washoe County in a Good Financial Condition, With Still Better Prospects Ahead.

A glance at the auditor and treasurer's report will convince our readers that Washoe county is in better financial condition than ever before. The funds are all full of cash, besides there is considerable to collect on the second installment, which will make it possible to still further reduce the county rate for the ensuing year. In 1894 the county rate was 1 1/2; in 1895 6 7/8; in 1896 1 1/2; in 1897 it was only 88 cents, and it is believed it can be reduced very materially for 1899. This must be encouraging to the taxpayers.

The local taxes within the city of Reno will surely be 20 cents less than in 1898, as the new law fixing the payments in two installments, necessitated an additional 10c, on both the school and University bonds for the year 1898. This will not be necessary in 1899. The county has not issued a piece of script since Nov 10 1896.

"Under the Dome."

"Under the Dome," Lincoln J. Carter's sensational comedy drama will be the attraction at Reno, Friday night, January 13th. It is a naval play, the main incidents of which were suggested by the attempted seizure of the Samoan Islands by the German government in 1888 and 1889. Several scenes of the play are worthy of a deal more than passing notice. One of these showing the passage of a ferry boat from Jersey City to New York is said to be absolutely perfect in detail. Another protean scene effort is the representation of that awful calamity in the harbor of Apia which cost the lives of 144 brave seamen and resulted in the destruction of the Eber, Adler and Olga of the German navy and of the United States men-of-war Trenton, Nipsic and Vandalia.

Certainly Did As Well.

Four years ago when the retiring Republican State Treasurer, George Richard, delivered his office to his successor, Wm. J. Westerfield, he had 27 cents more on hand than was necessary to balance his account.

In commenting on this, the Reno Gazette said if Westerfield did half as well when it came his turn to retire, the Gazette would be satisfied.

Mr. Westerfield the retiring Treasurer, a few days ago turned over to his successor, Mr. D. M. Ryan, $1,587,279.07 in cash and bonds, which was a surplus of 46 cents more than the law required to be in the Treasury. If any former Treasurer has done any better the Appeal would be glad to hear from him.

I Will Not Plead It.

EDITOR JOURNAL—In your issue of this morning I find some comment of a very vindictive article published in the Territorial Enterprise of date January 5, 1899, concerning myself and the cashing of a certain check of Wm. M. Stewart some twelve years ago. This comment is your own and I have no fault to find with it except in one particular, that is to say: you suggest in answer to the Enterprise that the offense—if any—has been barred by the statutes of limitation. Not so, neighbor. The statutes of limitation never was pleaded by myself and never will be.

Respectfully,
H. B. BECK.

Saving Money For the State.

W. G. Cattery is saving money for the State by constructing apparatus necessary for the University course in electrical engineering. This latest work is a complicated piece of mechanism for the purpose of determining the magnetic value of iron that is to be used in the construction of dynamos and other electrical machinery. A conservative estimate of the value of the apparatus he has already made for the University is $600. He proposes having the students in this course construct most of the instruments needed in their work, thus taking a step in advance of other universities.

Good Students, Too.

An examination of the record made in their studies by the members of the 'Varsity football squad indicates that the team is able to make a good showing intellectually as well as physically. The team's average standing is higher than the total general average. Coach Ellis has prepared some interesting statistics regarding individual development during the season of training, which he will make known on his return from San Francisco.

Don't So.

The Carson News says Senator Stewart has added a couple of gun fighters to his crop of lobbyists, among them Col. Jack Chinn a noted duelist Kentucky, and Nagie the man who was hired to murder Judge Terry. It looks like the venerable bulldozer was going to make good his threat that he would succeed himself whether the people of Nevada wanted him or not.—Times Review Discovered by Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose, that she slept all night; and two bottles, has absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz. Thus writes H. C. Hamrick & Co. of Shelby N. C. Trial bottles free S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store Regular size 50c and $1.00 Every bottle guaranteed.

Yellow Jaundice Cured.

Suffering humanity should be supplied with every means possible for its relief. It is with pleasure we publish the following: This is to certify that I was a terrible sufferer from Yellow Jaundice for over six months, and was treated by some of the best physicians in our city and all to no avail. Dr. Bell our druggist, recommended Electric Bitters; and after taking two bottles, I was entirely cured. I now take great pleasure in recommending them to any person suffering from this terrible malady. I am gratefully yours M. A. Hogarty, Lexington Ky.

Matters of interest to the Silver party organization will be presented. A full attendance of the committee is requested.

An Interesting Case.

All people are interested in a new case that has recently cropped up in Reno, and they have good reason for being so. This case contains many striking features. It is Mr. F. P. Dann's show case on Virginia street, down by the iron bridge. It is very beautiful, his new window display, of all that is modern in photography. There one may see large opalotypes, small autotypes and lovely porcelaines. Just think! Artistic photographs on genuine porcelain. And what do you think of this? He makes photographs on handkerchiefs—silk handkerchiefs. What more appropriate present could be imagined than one of these with your photo on it?

AN OLD TIME MISSISSIPPI RIVER
SHOOTING SCRAPE.

A Trivial Incident That Led to the Wrecking of the Old Postoffice, and a Pitched Battle in Which Seven Men Were Slain.

"One of the worst shooting scrapes that ever happened along the Mississippi river," began the man at the wheel, relaxing his hold on the tiller, which had been hard down, and permitting it to spin around with the velocity of a top, "took place out there, just above the mouth of the bayou, about 30 years ago, when they turned the old postoffice and the warehouse.
You can see where they stood by the piles of bricks there on the bank."

All admitted the ruins were plainly visible, when he changed to the opposite side of the wheel, and after a spirited effort made to counteract the effects of an impinging current that had caused the boat to swerve from her course he continued:

"The boat that I was on had got caught in the fog, and we tied up under the point there about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and a lot of us went on shore to take a little exercise. It was on a Saturday, and a good many people had come in from the country to do their trading and get their mail. Some of them were pitching quoits and others shooting at a mark when we first landed, but they quit when they saw the man carry the mail bag we had brought and went in and stood around waiting for the letters to be sorted. They had all been drinking and were pretty noisy.
When the postmaster said there were only two letters and that they were both for Bud Johnson, a colored man, a murmur of disapproval went around, and several of them insisted on a new deal.

"You can look for yourselves," said the postmaster, tossing them the bag, but after searching and finding it empty they were in a worse frame of mind than ever. Presently one of the number, a local politician, got up and made a speech derogatory to the administration. He insisted that the government was prejudiced against white folks, and that he had no use for the office anyhow. Several of the others present expressed their approval of this sentiment, and a general rumbling up of everything at once followed. During the row the coal oil lamp was broken, the house set on fire and everything burned up.

"Colonel Bunch, who owned the property, noticing the fire, came up from his plantation below and denounced the perpetrators of the outrage as vandals. The colonel was a high spirited man and didn't stand any foolishness, but was getting along in years now and couldn't do much but talk, so that when one of the men declared he could whip any Bunch on earth he looked like he felt himself in a pretty close place, but the colonel stood his ground until at last, when the contending parties were about to come to blows, his son appeared upon the scene, and,
learning the cause of the trouble, sprang between the two, and, drawing his revolver, said, 'My name is Bunch, and when my father gets to be too old to defend himself I can stand in his tracks and take his part.'

"At this juncture the shooting commenced, and I made for the boat. Everybody seemed to take sides against the Bunches, and you would have thought them a band of guerrillas from the way they kept the fight up. Presently I noticed the colonel roll down the bank and stop just at the edge of the water, and then his son came staggering down, too, and fell near his side.
They were both dead! We wanted to leave, but the men were afraid to go on shore to untie the lines, for the infuriated crowd was still calling for more Bunches and the colored man who had got the letters, but he had climbed a tree, and they didn't know where he was. An hour or so later, when the crowd had dispersed, he slid down from his hiding place, came aboard the boat and we had him in the hold until we got away and he was over his fright.
He said there were five men lying on the bank that the Bunches had killed before they fell."

The boat at this juncture showing a disposition to become fractious, the pilot gave his undivided attention for a moment to the wheel, when he went on:

"But there is not much shooting along the river now, and you hardly ever hear of a feud. When there were only about three families in a county, two of them were usually engaged in an effort to exterminate the other on account of some imaginary wrong, or maybe prompted by jealousy. Since the country has been settled up they are all right. I need to think myself," he went on to say after a brief tussle with the tiller, "that what a man wanted was room, but I have found out my mistake. What he stands most in need of is plenty of good neighbors, and I find that the thicker you put people the better they get along. It makes them more human, and besides they come to know something, which is not the case when they live alone. I have learned a good deal myself by traveling around and seeing what is in the world, for I usually go east every summer to swap malarious."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

An Old Missouri Bridge.

There is an old lattice bridge across the North Fabius creek, near Monticello, Lewis county, that was built in the year 1845. It is said that it was the first bridge of the kind built in north Missouri. The timber was taken from government land and was sawed into lumber at a water mill and with whip-saws. The contractors were seven months on the job, for which they received $400.—Kansas City Journal.

The German Pooh Bah.

"I don't know that there is much use of my keeping my school open more than a month or two each year," said the German pedagogues.

"Why is that?"

"Our emperor has simplified matters to such an extent that when you ask the name of the world's greatest poet, painter, musician, general, traveler or monarch there is only one answer to all the questions."—Washington Star.

Among Other Things.

"So you've lost your new servant already?" remarked a lady sympathetically to a neighbor.

"Yes."

"What time did she go?"

"I really can't tell," was the reply.

"She took my watch with her."—Rose-leaf.
